

Official Side-Event at COP 23: November 7th, 2017

Coordinated action on sustainable development and climate change

With perspectives from Nepal and Pacific Islands

How can we jointly tackle climate and sustainable development needs?

Where can climate action learn from sustainable development action and vice versa?

And how can we put 'integration' into practice?

...to discuss these and other essential questions, please join us at the COP.

When: Tuesday, the 7 th of November 2017 3:00 to 4:30 pm	Where: Bonn Zone, Meeting Room 4
Considering practical examples from our participants, we aim to foster exchange on synergies between climate protection and sustainable development. Which are the success stories and how can we harvest co-benefits when addressing both goals? What are the challenges? What are the needs shared by especially vulnerable regions such as small mountain countries and Pacific Islands, and what are their approaches?

Agenda:

- 15:00 Welcome and moderation: Institute for Advanced Sustainability Studies (IASS)
- 15:05 -15:45 Statements of panelists: Nepal, Solomon Islands, International Centre for Integrated Mountain Development (ICIMOD), Pacific Centre for Environment and Sustainable Development (PaCE-SD)
- 15:45 – 16:30 Moderated discussion and exchange

Federal Democratic Republic of Nepal

Solomon Islands

